

Musings on Starlight

“Dreams are illustrations from the book your soul is writing about you.” Marsha Norman

There is a partial Solar eclipse on June 1st at 11 degrees of Gemini. Effects of an eclipse are felt most strongly in the areas where the eclipse path is visible – this time including Japan and Iceland. Eclipses are evolutionary and can influence events both before and after their actual occurrence in time.

Time can feel altered during eclipse periods – this one extending through the Solar eclipse on July 1 with a Lunar eclipse on June 15.

Signs affected by the June 1st eclipse are: Gemini, Sagittarius, Pisces and Virgo. Check the house in which this eclipse falls in your chart to see the area of life up for evolution. It is good to be aware of any guidance or intuitions that may come to you that is related.

In the beginning of the month (June 1 through the 7th) the influence of the sea god Neptune will hold sway. Neptune rules dreams, illusions and spiritual journeys. Mercury will be squaring Neptune through the 7th making this a time when the thinking process can be cloudy or confused. Best not to make any important decisions under this aspect. Use it for creative and spiritual work and for daydreaming.

From the 5th through the 14th Venus will be squaring Neptune as well. This is a good time for contact with the higher planes and creative work. It is also a good time for socializing and romance. The Gemini influence is beneficial for fun and levity. It's light and breezy and likes to keep things moving.

From the 9th through the 17th Venus will be sextiling Uranus. This provides a good time for socializing and for bright and witty repartee. It can take a more serious turn on the 13th with the Saturn station - adding more of a concern for consequences and work left undone.

The Lunar eclipse is on the 15th at 24 degrees of Sagittarius. This eclipse is closely tied to the eclipse on the Winter Solstice last year at 0 Capricorn. Issues that were on the front burner at that time may be up for review or evolution.

From the 16th through the 23rd Mercury will form a square to the Uranus/Pluto aspect which is associated with the evolutionary changes and challenges taking place on the planet now. Pay attention to information which comes at this time although it may not be easy to assimilate initially. With this influence events and communications can feel jarring and people can act impulsively.

Heed the deeper meaning and assume things will fall into the proper perspective with time.

The Summer Solstice is June 21 when the Sun enters Cancer. This will also provide a good time for socializing, entertaining and revisiting creative ideas about the home environment.

The Sun will be moving up to a square with Pluto reminding us that transformation – personal and collective- is on the front burner.

“The ego does not choose the process of self transformation. It is written in the destiny of the soul.” Llewellyn Vaughan- Lee.

Sign up for Amelia's free astrology forecast on her homepage.